

Middle-schoolers make the long walk for water

PIONEER PRESS: JEAN PIERI

Ninth-graders Max Franz, left, and Chase Lau carry 6 liters of water for 15 laps around Stillwater Junior High School's track Saturday in an event to raise money for H₂O for Life — Water for Sudan. More than 100 students and staff participated in the walk, carrying the water to symbolize the walk for water that students in developing countries around the world must make every day. The school plans to raise $5,000.
